Reading Geography Worksheet

Orbis Terrarum

Directions: Complete this worksheet as you read the assigned text(s). Bring the worksheet to our next class, and be prepared to work with your classmates to combine your geographic imaginations. Draw your maps or pictures of the text's geography to the best of your abilities; you aren't being graded on your artistic ability. Completing the worksheet and bringing it to class will be counted as part of your course participation grade.

---

1. Which reading(s) is this?

2. What are the major geographic features present in the reading?

3. Pretend that you don't know anything more about global geography than what you can learn from the reading(s). What does the world look like? On the back of this worksheet, draw a map, or a picture of how you imagine the world presented by the text(s).

4. Look at the map you drew. What does it tell you? What would it tell someone else who didn't know anything about global geography?